(Global Expert on I&C centres)

Inspection and Certification to ensure Road Worthiness of In-use Vehicles

Graham Williams is a qualified Vehicle Engineer, who worked at the UK Vehicle and Operator Services Agency (VOSA) for almost thirty three years. VOSA, known as the Driver and Vehicle Services Agency, is the section of the UK Department of Transport which is responsible for vehicle inspection and roadside enforcement.

Now working as an independent consultant, he is an expert in vehicle inspection schemes and their supporting legislation, with experience of working on Inspection Regimes with many countries in South Asia, Europe, The Middle East, The Far East, Africa and The Caribbean.

He has delivered numerous projects in this field and specialises in the design of vehicle inspection and road transport enforcement regimes. He also owns a company called GB MOT Training Ltd., which delivers training to vehicle Inspectors (MOT testers) in UK and to Vehicle Inspectors in other countries.
